President Ron Howard

For those who have been wondering about our “annual” magazine publication, we can offer a “bad-news” and “great-news” message. Bad news is that we had to move on to our third publisher. The great news is that each option has gotten considerably better as we have progressed. We thought we had a good option with a national producer of some significant publications, but last minute, they pulled out due to some of their own internal staffing and financial considerations.

Which has led us to our latest, and yes, we think greatest option. Naylor, LLC is an organization that produces over 1000 publications for 500 Associations spanning 85 different industries, including the quarterly National Cattlemen’s Association magazine. They have a strong staff and with the option to publish the magazine electronically, we (and advertisers specifically!) can expect to reach thousands of current and prospective Beltie enthusiasts.

Speaking of enthusiasts, there were over 17,000 entrants in the heifer giveaway project with Grit magazine. EVERY one of these folks interested in a Belted Galloway have submitted an e-mail address through which we will be able to reach through a new electronic communication strategy that new Council member Scott Griffiths (TX) is helping us to develop.

And speaking of reaching out to key potential cattle partners, the April and May issues of the American Cattlemen will have a Beltie on the front cover which along with a promotion of the National Sale, also will direct people to our Society website. All of this means that each of you as members should have some great opportunities to reach potential customers by advertising in both the annual magazine and our website.

Thanks needs to go to our Executive Committee for some of this work, but absolutely to Jon Bednarski (KY) who, as Chair of the Promotion and Advertising Committee, has taken the full brunt of all this work. See Jon’s report on page 3 of this newsletter.

RFDTV

Pam Minick, keynote speaker and host of RFDTV’s American Rancher, former Miss Rodeo America, and member of Texas Cowboy Hall of Fame, spoke on niche marketing of Belted Galloway cattle and beef during the March 2011 Texas Belted Galloway Association’s annual meeting and sale held in Hamilton, TX at the Circle T Ranch and Resort. Belted Galloway breeder, Debbie Masters (TX), stopped for a candid shot with Pam.

Circle T Resort. Beltie enthusiasts enjoyed the Saturday training and meeting.

Texas Belted Galloway Association

Scott Griffith TBGA Past President

The Texas Belted Galloway Association (TBGA) held their Annual Meeting and Sale March 11-12 in Hamilton, TX at the beautiful Circle T Ranch and Resort. The Circle T arena is 4 acres under roof, with an adjoining restaurant and cantina. The on-site Hotel provided perfect accommodations for the overnight guests who came for the meeting. The arena also offered pens for the Belted Galloway cattle various TBGA members brought to display and sell.

The weekend meeting kicked off on Friday evening with a social gathering and dinner. TBGA members were encouraged to bring banners and table displays to showcase their ranches and cattle. The displays lined the perimeter of the courtyard between the restaurant and cantina. All were able to meet the ranchers, peruse the displays, view the cattle and enjoy a fine dinner.

Saturday morning after breakfast, TBGA President Scott Griffith began the meeting with an introduction of all in attendance, an overview of the day's events, and a brief review of 2010 Beltie events, as well as a look into the future of the association. This was followed by Jerry Moore (KY) bringing encouraging and practical insights gained from his many years as a Belted Galloway breeder. Jerry Stevens (NY) then spoke to the crowd on the pitfalls and successes he has enjoyed at Uphill Farm.

Dr. Jason Banta, PhD from Texas A&M brought a two hour session on Artificial Insemination, animal nutrition and Body Condition Scoring. The informal Q&A continued well into the catered lunch, as did the buying and selling of cattle in the nearby pens. Following lunch, Pam Minick, our keynote speaker and host of RFD TV's American Rancher, former Miss Rodeo America, and member of Texas Cowboy Hall of Fame, spoke on niche marketing of Belted Galloway cattle and beef. Ms. Minick brought many goodies from the RFD TV and sponsors to give to the crowd. Pam also left with video footage of the weekend and a promise that the Texas Belted Galloway Association would be featured on an upcoming episode of the American Rancher TV show.

After a brief intermission and more buying and selling of cattle, the weekend concluded with a brief business meeting and election of Brian Taylor, Tom Shaw and Dawson Masters as new TBGA Directors.

TBGA Social Time. Robert Power (TX) and Homer & Dianne Mohn (TX) visit during the social.

Exciting News

Jon Bednarski Chairman Advertising & Promotion

After several delays in our "annual" magazine, as President Ron Howard explained, we feel this new publisher will be a great fit for the Society. Although advertising rates have gone up in the two years since our last issue, the opportunities will be so much greater. Bringing in related outside advertisers will not only help pay for the magazine, but copies they hand out will give additional exposure to our breed. However, I am most excited about having an electronic version of the annual magazine available to anyone who visits our website. I will update you with all the advertising information in the May newsletter.

With the culmination of our Grit Magazine Belted Galloway Sweepstakes on March 11th, we officially have 17,009 entries or as I like to say "potential Beltie owners". During the next few weeks a qualified winner will be announced and an email list of those entries will be placed in a database. When the annual magazine is completed by mid-summer, we will electronically send every one of those entries a copy. Talk about the potential for those thousands of people to see your farm ad! I have made this plea before, but if you have cattle to sell, please get them listed on our website over the next few months.

Also, check out our ad in the April and May issues of The American Cattlemen Magazine at www.americancattlemen.com (over 20,000 copies per month distributed). Check out their electronic magazine, as it is a good example of what the Belted Galloway magazine will look like.

In summary, between our membership, our website visitors, the Grit & American Cattlemen magazines we could have over 20,000 people view our upcoming annual magazine. A big jump from the 2,500 printed copies we went through from 2009-2011.

Maine Coast Cow Camp

Much awaited, much anticipated and finally here. Beltie Youth Group Members and Senior Aldermere Achiever 4-H members Alice Flint (ME) and Addie Bragg (ME) are offering a summer on the Maine Coast Cow Camp opportunity for show animals. Alice and Addie are the farm's oldest and most experienced show people. They have both performed extraordinarily well in the youth shows and have represented Aldermere Farm (ME) at the highest level by showing in the Open Shows.

Because many breeders do not have the time to show, or others might want their cattle to have a greater degree of exposure by having them shown some here in the Northeast, Aldermere Farm is partnering with these young ladies to offer anyone the opportunity to have your show animals brought to the farm and they will be managed. Animals must have had all shots and been dewormed and have no communicable diseases.

More details are likely to be worked out but wanted you to be aware of this opportunity. Contact Ron Howard at RHoward@MCHT.org or (207)236-2739.

We encourage members to submit ads the last two weeks of the month. Advertising bulls ... Before advertising a young male as a breeder we must be sure he is well conformed, tracks properly, has good legs and feet, and exhibits good weight gains. We should have data available on his birth weight, 205-day weaning weight, and yearling weight. If he's reached breeding age (around 18 months), it's definitely a plus to have his semen checked for quantity and motility.

Any data available should appear in your advertisement along with his birth date and the names of his sire and dam. Further, it is required that registration numbers be included on bulls advertised for sale in the Hotline and newsletter.
